CIRCOR Instrumentation Technologies Appoints Jim Blose as Vice President - Finance

I am pleased to announce that Jim Blose has joined Circor Instrumentation Technologies (CIT) as the Vice President of Finance, headquartered in Spartanburg, South Carolina. Jim will report directly to me.

Jim's career spans over 25 years in the manufacturing accounting environment. Most recently, he served as Controller / Finance Director of the $300 Million Micro Motion Division of Emerson Corp., a company where he had also led financial teams in many different product lines for the past 20 years.

Jim's proven track record in profitable financial leadership and lean manufacturing make him a valuable addition to our management team and we look forward to his contributions to our efforts to achieve financial excellence.

A native of Georgia, with degrees in Accounting from Shorter College and both a MBA and a MS-Finance from University of Colorado, Jim and his family will be relocating to Spartanburg from Longmont, CO.

Please help me in welcoming Jim to the CIT family.
